B-W Y C Regatta Set For Saturday; Skippers Arriving From Many Points

Observations...

By UDELL

Congratulations to the city officials and the Park and Playgrounds Commission for cleaning the sand beach and erecting a flood light for the benefit of those people who wish to use the beach at night. From all indications, the beach has become one of the most popular spots in town for both local residents and out-of-towners.

Every time we pass along Dunbar avenue, we can either see or smell another pile of garbage that has been dumped along the side of the road. We wonder if some of the guilty parties would like for someone to do the same thing in front of their homes. It seems as though something could be done about this. Now that crabs, etc., are in season, a method of disposal should be provided for all refuse.

We wish to apologize to the Honorable Robert L. Genin, attorney for St. Augustine's Seminary, for having omitted his name in the article on the Eminent Domain suits printed last week.

James F. Brent, music director at Bay High, is conducting a summer band program for children and adults, free of cost. But, Mr. Brent is not meeting with cooperation from the local people and will soon disband the program. He is devoting his time to teaching wind instruments to all children and adults interested in learning, and he gives private instructions to all who enroll with him. The senior band has rehearsals every Wednesday and Friday from 7:15 to 8:15 p.m. with refreshments served at the conclusion of the practice. The junior band rehearses from 8:15 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. every morning, and private lessons are given from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily. If this program would be offered at any other time, it would cost a nominal fee, but here and now, it is being offered free of charge. Children from any school may take part in this opportunity and contact Mr. Brent today.

Sailing this week at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club has stirred up a good bit of interest in and out of town. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, the district lightning championships were held, bringing some of the best lightning skippers in the country, undoubtedly the best in the district made of yacht clubs in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, to the local club. Tomorrow, the annual Bay-Waveland Yacht Club regatta will bring boats and skippers from many clubs and will be the grand finale of the Mississippi Coast Yachting Association annual race festival which began at Pass Christian June 28 and has worked its way through five other regattas along the Mississippi coast.

The bravery of one man, a resident of New Orleans, saved the Bay St. Louis bridge from destruction by fire again, Thursday. The man was driving a truck across the bridge when it caught fire, and rather than let the truck burn on the bridge, he drove across the bridge, safeguarding the lives of the many travelers using the structure.

Try To Secure Youth Counsellor

A committee from the Hancock County Council for Youth and Children appeared before the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the City Council today to obtain their help in a cooperative project of securing a well-qualified Youth Counsellor under the provision of the merit system.

The group will appear at a later date before the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the Town of Waveland in regard to their share of this project.

How's business? Business activity in Bay St. Louis rose during the month of May according to the current issue of the Mississippi Business Review, published monthly by the Business Research Station of the School of Business and Industry at Mississippi State College.

Comparing bank debits of May 1951 with those of May 1952 it was found that Bay St. Louis showed a 8.7% increase along with increases shown by the other named Mississippi cities, excluding Pass Christian which showed a decrease.

Bay St. Louis chalked up a 12.1 per cent business activity increase during May, 1952, over the same month of the previous year. The cities of Gulfport, Biloxi and Piquette also showed increases with Pass Christian not showing a decrease. Bay St. Louis' increase was second only to Gulfport sporting a 12.6 per cent increase.

Money order sales, telephones in service, electrical connections and gas connections were also more numerous in Bay St. Louis. A 6.0 per cent rise in bank deposits was reported for May-April in Bay St. Louis. Bay St. Louis indicated a substantial increase in postal receipts.

Ed Arceneaux Jr. To Take Bombing Course

First Lt. Ed. Arceneaux Jr., is undergoing a seven weeks training course in bombing at Sherman, Texas, before being transferred to a port of embarkment where he expects to be shipped overseas.

Lt. Arceneaux has been technically stationed at Long Beach, California, but has been flying new planes from Douglas Aircraft to all parts of the world, including Germany and Japan. A side note to Arceneaux's career is that on trips to Germany and Japan, Eddie Rickenbacker Jr., the son of the famous flyer, was his copilot.

Lt. and Mrs. Arceneaux visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Arceneaux Sr., Thursday through Saturday last week.

Five persons were hurt in a multiple-injury mishap, which was reported by Assistant District Inspector J. J. Wittmann to have happened at 7:45 p. m. Saturday.

Inspector Wittmann said the victims were injured as a 1952 Plymouth, driven by Rosemary C. Woodfin, New Orleans, struck the rear of a 1928 Ford, driven by Rita A. Kelly, Pearlport.

Injured were the Woodfin woman with lacerations of left knee; Gordon Case, New Orleans, fractured pelvis and a broken left leg; and Caryl Case, New Orleans, laceration of the face and a fractured left ankle. All were taken to Bay St. Louis, thence to Baptist Hospital in New Orleans. The extent of the injuries to the other two persons, Rita A. Kelly and Elvyn Kelly, was not immediately learned, since they were taken to a hospital in New Orleans directly from the scene of the accident, according to Wittmann.

The competition in these races will be keen, sailing conditions ideal and entertainment in abundance.

class request such a race at least two hours before the start of the regatta.

"MITES" IN N. O. FOR GAME

The Bay St. Louis "Mites" play the Metairie "Mustangs" today at 2:00 p. m. at the Mustangs' home field. The Metairie team is under the direction of Harry "Wop" Glover, one-time resident of Bay St. Louis.

Larry, a handsome, dark-haired youngster of 16, son of John Koenen, a 4-H Club member from Dedeaux community and second place winner in the State Tractor Maintenance contest at State college June 24, stated:

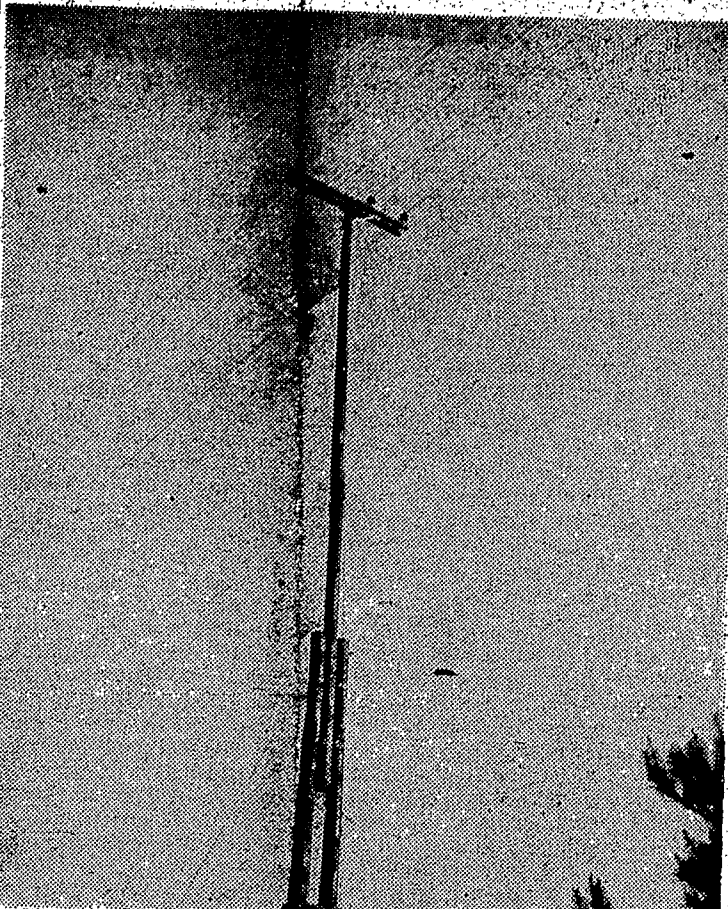

"4-H Club work has helped in developing my life." Larry Koenen, a 4-H Club member from Dedeaux community and second place winner in the State Tractor Maintenance contest at State college June 24, stated:

The quail proposition is rather unique in that he has a pair of quail in a cage from which he takes the eggs as they are laid and sets them under a bantam hen. At this time he has 17 quail eggs setting. These young can either be turned loose on the farm for restocking or sold back to the State Game and Fish Commission at $5.00 a pair.

In 1947 Larry's father bought a Ford tractor, and while Larry was too small to drive the machine in the fields, he kept the back yard cut up driving the tractor around in the enclosure. As he grew older and became more able to use the implement, additional equipment was acquired and at the present time they have sufficient equipment to completely operate the farm. In addition Larry prepared for planting the ground of five neighbors.

He received $10.00 from the Pan American Southern Company, which practically paid his expenses at the 4-H Club Congress; and, in the State, which also gave him first place winner in the South Mississippi District.

"I feel at home on the tractor," stated Larry. With this attitude you can understand why Larry was second winner in the State, losing first place by two points which went to a much older boy and one with more experience.

The Knights of Columbus, gathered for statewide exemplification ceremonies and other activities Sunday, had paraded from their Roosevelt Hotel headquarters to St. Louis Cathedral in full dress uniform.

After Mass the Knights attended exemplification ceremonies from 1:30 until 4:00 p. m. in the Roosevelt. A banquet Sunday night concluded the day's activities.

Faithful Navigator Wilmer Thibaux, Monsignor Gmelch, General Assembly Fourth Degree Knights, Mrs. Thibaux and son, Carl; and Mrs. J. H. Benvenuti also attended. Including Favre and Benvenuti, there was a total of nine from Bay St. Louis and Gulfport initiated into the Monsignor Gmelch General Assembly of Fourth Degree Knights.

The largest induction of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus ever held in the South took place when 388 men attended exemplification ceremonies in New Orleans Sunday.

Most Rev. Maurice Schexnayder, auxiliary bishop of Lafayette, speaking before the candidates of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, said that parents who fail to guide their children toward the "full truth" of God's law are refusing to give God His due and are thereby practicing a form of self-worship. That is responsible for the irreligion and secularism of our day.

Keble Obtains New Teacher Of Fame In Musical Field

Lawrence Michael Oden of New Orleans, a concert pianist, composer, teacher and conductor and the managing director of the New Orleans Theater of Music, has been appointed assistant professor of music at Keble College, Pass Christian, according to an announcement released today by the Reverend Douglas R. Mac Laury, administrator of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Oden's first class is scheduled for the second session of the summer term, which begins Monday, July 14 and ends August 21. The course will be "Music Appreciation" and will be offered on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:00 to 10:30 p. m.

Mr. Oden who has resided in New Orleans since childhood, studied music under Arthur Wagner and Ginetie Rosenthal. Later he studied conducting under Louis Hasselmann, Metropolitan Opera Conductor, and the late Dr. H. W. Stophier of Louisiana State University. He is a graduate of the Louisiana State University School of Music and has also studied at Manhattanville College, in New York City.

Mr. Oden is the composer of an original oratorio "Bernadette" which, starred Evelyn Keller at its premiere in 1949 by the New Orleans Opera Guild, a lyric ballet "Three Streets and a River" which was presented in April, 1950, the ballet "Marpessa" which had its premiere in June, 1946, sponsored by the New Orleans Opera Guild, and other musical compositions.

Mr. Oden organized the Civic Music Youth Movement in New Orleans, was associate conductor and choral director of the Memphis Open Air Theater, and formerly was a professor at the Brooklyn School of Music, New York, and head of the music department at the College of the Sacred Heart, Grand Coteau, Louisiana.

While in the army, Mr. Oden was musical advisor of the Eighth Service Command in the Pacific. A total of 87 concerts were conducted for the men overseas. While in Japan, Mr. Oden conducted the Imperial Tokyo Symphony.

Father Mac Laury said "Keble College is proud to announce the appointment of Mr. Oden. Music lovers of the Coast have an unparalleled opportunity to study under a distinguished composer and musician. The College hopes that many will avail themselves of Mr. Oden's exceptional talent and abilities."

MRS. BONCK HONORED

Mrs. Rhea Bonck, former resident of Bay St. Louis, was entertained at luncheon and cards Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Kiefer. Others in attendance were Mesdames Antoinette Trastour, R. M. Hand, John Tooker, Bernard Blaize, J. R. Scharf and Walter Hava.

Boys of high school age, usually in their junior year, with leadership qualities are selected for Boys' State. Leaders of this institution are mentally alert and vigorous, enthusiastic and of good personality, honest and thrifty, able to get along with others, and good sportsmen. Scholarship is a desirable and important quality, yet many potential leaders are not always the best scholars.

These young citizens direct state, county and municipal government by electing and appointing their own officers.

Each annual Boys' State is a new State. The citizens, upon arrival are assigned to one of the political parties, a county and a city. Each boy runs for the office to which he aspires. The campaigns are conducted in great sincerity and a member of the State Supreme Court or other state official administers the oath of office to all officers. Throughout each term of office each official is shown the same respect that his office demands in a life situation.

Each year two boys are selected from the two local schools, and for the past six years the Knights of Columbus and the Rotary Club have sponsored their attendance.

Penny Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cole, and Gerald Gex, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien M. Gex, left last Saturday, to attend Boys' State at Belhaven College, Jackson, from July 5 - 12.

Fred E. Fayard, Commander of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139, of the American Legion, announced this week.

Cole, a senior this September at Bay High, is being sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club in his attendance at Boy's State, an American Legion activity of high educational value. Boy's State was born out of a need for youth training in practical citizenship and functioning, in cooperation with, and incidental to, the major purpose of schools.

Robert Cumberland, New Orleans truck driver, displayed dramatic heroism last Thursday, July 3, when he speedily drove his tank truck to the edge of the Bay bridge in order to prevent a possible explosion on the bridge.

The Bay St. Louis span was crowded with cars. "It was a case of my taking a chance of the gasoline tank exploding or of killing a lot of people," Cumberland said later.

Cumberland stopped his flaming truck when he was told, of the fire in his cargo of mineral wool insulation material by two other men riding in the back of the truck with the cargo. When he saw that the fire was threatening the gasoline tank, as well as the gasoline-using machine, he blew the mineral wool from the truck, Cumberland leaped back into the cab and rushed the blazing truck off the bridge at the Henderson Point approach. The fire was quenched by a fire engine summoned from Pass Christian.

The Eagle Asbestos and Packing Company truck was enroute to Pass Christian from New Orleans.

Cumberland was quoted as saying that he jumped back into the truck and drove it off the bridge because "I thought it might explode and burn the bridge down."

Holiday Program To Become Annual 4th Activity In Bay

The first annual freedom flame, a Fourth of July celebration suggested by Leo Kenney, was held last Friday evening on the sand beach, south side of the Bay bridge.

A large crowd attended the activities which were climaxed by a 10-minute display of fireworks. Rev. Father Grant, of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church, gave the invocation followed by the playing of the Star Spangled Banner and the lighting of bonfires typifying the freedom flame.

Howard LeTissier was guest speaker and made an impressive speech on freedom. Rockets, Roman candles, aerial bombs and firecrackers were set off in the fireworks display. A larger display is planned for next year.

The Boy Scouts with the cooperation of the city officials sponsored the program which is intended to be an annual affair.

NATIVE OF BAY DIES IN TEXAS

Oscar R. Luc Sr., 72, a native of Bay St. Louis, died at Marshall, Texas, July 2 at 12:30 p. m. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Luc of this city.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at St. Maurice church in New Orleans. Interment was in St. Vincent de Paul cemetery.

Survivors include a son, Oscar Luc Jr.; two brothers, Mitchell and Forrest Luc of Bay St. Louis, and two grandchildren.

State Makes Large Blue Cross Gain

Mississippi Hospital and Medical Service reports among all Blue Cross Plans, one of the highest percentage increases in enrollment for the first six months in 1952, showing a 23 percent increase.

The addition of over 35,000 new members during this period was the largest in the Plans' history, and definitely reflects the progressive nature of the people in solving their health problems through a locally sponsored voluntary system.

In keeping with its reputation as America's fastest growing health movement is the announcement of more than 42,000,000 enrolled in Blue Cross, nationwide, which means that one of every four Americans is now Blue Cross protected.

Hancock County's contribution to this effort cannot be overlooked. A substantial number have joined under the sponsorship of the King's Daughters Hospital, which is Blue Cross related.

An Option On Tomorrow

It seems as if the public is continuously asked to dig a little deeper for this or that "worthy cause." Editorial space is being used this week for such a purpose, and the term "worthy cause" is an understatement.

Once again the Bay St. Louis Youth Center needs your help. If you are a parent of a teen-ager, you know of this youth organization; if you are not, you should know of it anyway. Throughout the year this club, for city and county children 12 years old through the teens, presents a varied program of interesting entertainment. Every Saturday night, for instance, a regular dance is held at the club's building on Highway 90 opposite Bay High school.

This summer's drive, like last year's, will be carried on in order to support the club for the coming fiscal year. The only benefits acquired from the city are tax-free property and gratis gas, electricity and water, plus an occasional donation. The county usually makes a large donation once a year also.

So it appears that the Youth Center's subsistence is left in the hands of the public. Memberships of $1.00 per year paid by the teen-agers are recognizable only a drop in the bucket compared with the pressing needs of the club. The hard-working board of directors are constantly seeking to improve and expand so that the young persons of this community may enjoy the same recreational benefits derived from youth organization life in the city. More than this, the board often finds itself with the problem of just making ends meet.

The challenge is now in the hands of you, the people of the city and county. Send your donations today to Mrs. Laurent Kergosien, 108 Carroll avenue, or Miss Sybil Koeniger, 636 North Beach.

Tomorrow's citizens will be as good as today's youth. Keep the kids on the right track by providing them with clean, wholesome recreation.

Outlet For Hobbyists

At long last those who are skilled at a handicraft, and desire to make "pin money," or add even more substantially to the family income, have a chance to sell their wares to the gift market in quantity. It has come about through action by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce in studying the facts placed before it - and now a call is made to handicrafters in this county (as well as adjoining counties) to let it be known who they are and what they make. Even more to the point, those who are not skilled at a handicraft but who wish to learn, are given their opportunity.

In another column the ECHO presents news on the subject, with a list of handicrafts that seems long enough to mention practically any activity in which hobbyists or handicrafters may engage. Excepting that this is beyond being a hobby, it is a door-opening proposition in which those who make nice things for utility or decoration may sell without the troublesome task of having to seek their own markets.

On many, many occasions we have heard handicrafters say they cannot sell their wares rapidly enough to accumulate any noticeable sums of money - on the surface there now seems to be a way by which this can be done, and handicrafters of every sort, if they make things well, would do well to make themselves known in the manner suggested in the news article published today.

Seminary To Start 8th Laymen Retreat

The eighth annual week-end retreat for laymen, who cannot make a retreat at other times was opened at St. Augustine's Seminary this past weekend, July 4-6, with an enrollment of 50 men.

The retreat master was the Rev. Carlos Lewis, S. V. D., S. T. D., professor at St. Augustine's Seminary, who recently returned from Rome after completing a post-graduate course in theology at the Gregorianum.

The retreatants came from the States of Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi and Alabama. The Seminary retreats start on Friday night at 7:30 and end on Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m. The Very Robert E. Pung, S. V. D., who was recently appointed Rector of St. Augustine's Seminary and who has been in charge of the retreats for the past seven years, said that approximately 225 men will make the different retreats this summer at the seminary. There will be four week-end retreats.

"The idea of promoting this week-end retreat," said Father Pung, "was simply to allow men who can't get away during the week to take advantage of the week-end."

The Alumni of St. Augustine's Seminary will have the week-end, July 11-13 schedule for their retreat. On Sunday afternoon there will be a special meeting of the Alumni. Members of the Alumni Association (Sigma Alpha Sigma Club) are expected to assemble in large numbers for a business meeting. Following the meeting, Benediction will be celebrated by the Rev. Carlos Lewis, S. V. D., S. T. D., an alumnus of St. Augustine's Seminary, in the Seminary chapel at 3:00 p. m. and will be attended by the alumni. Lunch will be served afterwards.

A special feature during the retreat was the candle-light procession to the cemetery, where the retreatants made the Way of the Cross. Other features were the procession to the Grotto of Lourdes and the Agony in the Garden, and a rosary film by Father Peyton. One feature which has taken very well with the retreatants is the 15-minute visit to the Blessed Sacrament by each retreatant during the course of the retreat.

The retreats at St. Augustine's Seminary are sponsored by St. Augustine's Laymen Retreat League, and information may be obtained from the organization's office at St. Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

The complete remaining retreat schedule is as follows:
July 11 to 13 - Second Retreat (Alumni Retreat)
July 20 - Reconciliation Day for the St. Vincent D. Paul Society
July 25 to 27 Third Retreat
August 1 to 3 - Fourth Retreat.

—Miss Irma Joan Lee returned from a week's vacation in Ranger, Texas.

—Major Robert L. Hamilton was home over the Fourth of July weekend. He left Sunday for Fort McPherson, Atlanta, where he is stationed.

County Agent's Notes

Mow Hay As Soon As Dew Dries

By HOWARD SIMMONS

Hay should be mowed in the morning as soon as the dew dries. The quickest method of curing hay is to use a side delivery rake to sweep the hay into loose, fluffy windrows. This should be done about two hours after mowing. Hay loses moisture faster in windrows than it does when left lying on cut.

A quick "hum" rule for telling when hay is dry enough to bale or stack is to grasp the ends of a hank of hay in each hand and turn as if you were winding a two handed reel or wrench. When grass hay is dry enough to snap and break without roping, it is cured enough to bale and store without heating.

If hay is to be "barn cured" by forced air, it can be hauled in as soon as the leaves begin to wither. Make sure that the fans and air system are designed and installed to supply plenty of air to prevent heating until the hay is cured.

Silage should be cut, hauled and packed in the silo as soon as possible. As air pockets and exposures may cause spoilage of silage, tramp and seal it to prevent such danger.

Protect Farm Machinery - it is still hard to get. Extra care and repair should increase the life of the machinery on hand. As each piece of equipment completes its season be sure to provide proper housing to prevent rust and decay; and tag all broken and worn parts for replacement.

FARM SAFETY

With the long days, hot weather and heavier work loads comes the temptation of over-load, hurry and the additional risks. Resist those temptations. It is better to be safe than sorry.

Make sure that all safety guards are in place. Stop machines and motors to make any and all adjustments. Be careful with matches and smoking. Be on the lookout for sparks from engines. Check fuel tanks and containers.

Practice safety all the time. Remember National Farm Safety Week, July 24-26.

COTTON INSECT CONTROL. DUSTING TIPS: 1. Ground dusting place sprouts six inches above the cotton and blow dust down into the tops of the plants. 2. Remove the "Y's" from hand dusters and dust one row at a time. 3. Apply dust in late afternoon or early night. 4. Select proper gear but run tractor motor at full throttle to give the highest wind velocity from duster fan.

SPRAYING. 1. Use two nozzles per row on young cotton and three nozzles on older cotton. 2. At a tractor speed of three to five miles an hour use a No. 2 nozzle tip; at speeds of five to eight miles an hour, use No. 3 tips. 3. When using two nozzles per row, have boom eight inches above bud of cotton. 4. Check tractor speed.

All insects that you find in cotton field are not harmful. A small soft bodied insect, with a black triangle just behind his head and two big eyes is known as the "big-eye bug" and feeds on boll worms, leaf worms and flea hoppers. Lady bird beetles feed on red spiders and eggs and larvae of the boll worm. Lace wing fly feeds on aphids, red spider mites, thrips and eggs of worms. Spiders catch many harmful insects. Sweat flies attack aphids. Assassin bugs feed

Carter To Find Handcraft Markets

In and about Bay St. Louis there are several hundred men and women of varying ages who are skilled in a handcraft; there are many others who would like to learn a handcraft. The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce approved the idea of learning who these people are, and what they do best, with the plan in mind of selling their wares.

These handcrafters may not know where to sell what they make—the channel for selling is now being opened.

Those behind this effort have no lessons, no courses, no kits and no books to sell; they wish to know who can make things for sale, and sell them at regular commissions to gift shops of the quality type over the country.

Although a list of handcrafts covers practically all activities in which our people might be trained or engaged, the man behind the scenes, the one who will do the selling, is intensely interested in obtaining the names of those who do ceramics, art pottery, or decorate china or pottery, whether they have kilns or not. There is a large market for ceramic wares than for anything else on the list, but he urges that the other handcrafts not be forgotten.

Handcrafters (or those wishing to learn a handcraft) are urged to write to J. F. Carter, care of the ECHO, stating the one or several handcrafts in which you have skill (or wish to develop skill), stating your experience, whether you care to make a list of an item to sell regularly, and whether you are sufficiently equipped with tools and materials. This is not a hobby proposition—it is an attempt to sell goods made by handcrafters, and they must remember they are in business. This may be a part-time proposition or full time, state which in the letter.

Please do not try to see anyone in the ECHO office, and do not bring or send samples—describe everything in the letter, and give the exact address.

So many handcrafters in this area have said they had trouble selling what they make—here is the opportunity. But the article must not be a gadget or a gimmick; it must be well done, be a really finished article, that the quality gift shop will not be ashamed to offer the public.

Instructions for beginners, ideas, designs, etc., will be furnished free of cost. Every effort will be made to keep the handcrafters informed as to the article needed and which will sell best.

On this page is a list of the handcraft subjects most popular, with articles mentioned. If you do anything in this list, or if you know of someone who does, please write as indicated in the first part of this article. Mr. Carter suggests: if you cannot make at least $1.00 for every hour engaged, don't try at all. Discouraged people will not continue to produce.

CERAMICS: Tiles, decorative and utility; buttons; figurines of all kinds; plaques; book-ends; Tea sets; vases, ash trays, costume jewelry, mugs, pitchers, bowls.

Garcia-Kingston Nuptials Held

Miss Marcella Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Kingston of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Floyd Garcia, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Garcia of Clermont Harbor, Sunday, June 29, at St. Ann's Catholic Church with Rev. M. J. Costello performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Nolan Kingston. She wore a ballerina length tulle effect dress of white with an underlayer of pleated or tulle over tulle. The dress was fashioned with a tight fitting bodice, high neck line with small pearl buttons in front; short sleeves and the top skirt of eyelet was scalloped in front, completed the dress. She wore a small white hat trimmed with matching veil and tiny arrangements of flowers. She wore an orchid corsage.

Miss Myra Peterson, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a green organza dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Harvey Ming acted as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. The table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with a tiered cake. Clamatis and fern was arranged around the edges of the table.

Mrs. Garcia was receiving in a beaming sheer dress. Mrs. Kingston wore a Navy blue crepe dress. Their corsages were of red carnations.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Mrs. I. Williams, Mrs. A. J. Carrick, assisted by Mrs. Esther Kingston, Mrs. Robert Lachner and Mrs. Horace Johnson. Mrs. A. J. Carrick cut and served the wedding cake.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

by
W. F. Bond, Director of Public Relations.

The Children's Bureau of the Federal Security Agency, Washington, D. C., issued a statement recently calling attention to services being rendered by child welfare divisions of state welfare departments in several states throughout the nation. In this statement the work being done in Mississippi received special mention, as will be seen by the following quote:

They all needed help:

The mother who wanted to make daytime plans for her two children so she could take a job and support them. Four little boys deserted by their father, living alone in a house after their mother's death. Children who needed a new home because their mother was psychotic. An unmarried mother, who needed help on what she should do. A mother frantic because her child had been kidnapped. A child referred by a court as a "behavior problem not yet delinquent."

All these children or their mothers came to the attention of child welfare workers in a single county in Mississippi during a recent month. They represent a section from a "typical" month's new problems for the workers.

To persons in need services given by an intelligent trained worker with common sense is often worth far more than a money grant. Especially is this true with that group of children nobody loves found in every state.

Despite zooming general living expenses, the cost of liquefied petroleum gas has remained relatively stable, "spot survey" by L.P. Gas Information Service, Chicago, among nation's dealers reveals. In contrast to an average rise of 63% in all items contained in U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics cost of living index, L.P. Gas rates increased only 7% in ten-year period ending April 15, 1952. Also known as butane, propane, bottled and tank gas, the fuel is used principally in farm, small town and suburban areas.

By - Gone Days

FIFTY YEARS AGO
An ordinance prohibiting public carriages to be driven by boys under a prescribed age was introduced last Saturday at the regular meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen by Alderman Von Gohren. It was laid over for discussion till the next meeting. Too many children, for their own good and the safety of public life, are engaged in the pursuit of public hack driving, says Alderman Von Gohren, and it is his purpose to apply a remedy.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO
Filing of an injunction to retard the early building of both free bridges over Chief and Rigolets water, connecting the Old Spanish Trail between New Orleans and Bay St. Louis and the balance of the Mississippi Gulf Coast is so glaringly a "hold up" as to warrant the contempt of every right thinking person, who favors progress and resents a monopoly. The Gulfport Herald truthfully says this step to stop the building of bridges "is a disappointment to people on the Mississippi Coast, who have been so much to make this highway one to be noted for its fine bridges, which are, of course, essential in any well-watered country—the bays and rivers furnishing a very beautiful feature of the Trail."

The courts have been called upon to tie up a two million dollar project, an injunction preventing the opening of bids, and the information gained in the process is to the effect that before the courts will have again reconvened the summer vacation will have been over as a result several months lapsed. And then the appeal, if any, will again consume this. The injunction naturally is superimposed on a technicality, but it is nevertheless a case of the dog in the manger.

TEN YEARS AGO
Miss Caro Weston, county supervisor of the school lunches, garden and canning program visiting the project here Monday and expressed herself well pleased with the work.

Miss Caro Weston, county supervisor of the school lunches, garden and canning program visiting the project here Monday and expressed herself well pleased with the work.

FIVE YEARS AGO
—Bay St. Louis welcomes back as permanent residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Erwin who are occupying the Moreau apartment on Carroll avenue. Mr. Erwin has resumed his associations with the Mississippi Power Company.

—Misses Thelma Namais, Kay Ford and Virgil Dick left Tuesday for a visit with Miss Namais' mother, Mrs. Fred Lister, at Miami, Florida.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Alliston and family left Monday for a vacation visit in Jackson and Newton.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Kent Boyd and two children of Kansas City, Missouri, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Boyd at their home on Nicholson avenue.

ONE YEAR AGO
The new Civil Aeronautics Administration plans include proposals for two airplane landing facilities at Bay St. Louis. The CAA is interested in erecting an airport and a seaplane base here. Classified to be of personal size of 1500 to 2000 in length, the new airport is expected to be built on land leased by the county from Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chapman. The property lies between the old Kiln road and Washington street.

No plans have been laid yet for the proposed seaplane base. This new CAA plan calling for 123 new or improved airports in Mississippi, is the fifth in a series announced annually as required under the federal airport act. The program is to provide a system of adequate airports in the plan to meet civilian needs.

Congressional Sidelights

by Congressman Wm. M. Colmer

RECAPITULATION

Looking back on this, the 82nd Congress, in the dying hours of its second, and last, regular session, we believe that it can best be characterized as a "middle of the road Congress."

It was not New Deal, not Fair Deal, but not reactionary either. It heaved pretty well to the center line.

It was worthwhile, in our opinion, as much for what it did not do as for some of the things it did.

It did not consider the nefarious FEPC proposal.

It did not waste its time and energy debating the other force bills aimed at the South, the anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills.

It did not accept the President's all-time-high budget, with its prospective deficit of fourteen billion dollars.

In general it did not respond to minority left-wing pressure as some previous Congresses have.

ADJOURNMENT RUSH
Going down the home stretch before adjournment and the national conventions which follow, the house worked long hours to put the wraps on "must" bills.

Last minute rush tactics always provided a bad atmosphere for good legislation. During the last few days of a session conference reports come in on measures that often undo the cut-backs and corrective actions previously made. Under these conditions, a good many members, tired and weary, go ahead and accept compromises even though they don't like them.

A good example was the huge Independent Offices Appropriations bill, which included socialized housing. Last March the House passed that bill but accepted an amendment to cut the start of public housing of 5,000 units during the next year. In the Senate the number was upped to 45,000. Then the House and Senate conferees agreed on 35,000. This additional 30,000 would cost our taxpayers a half billion dollars. The Conference Report containing that figure then came back to the House for approval. After a hard fight, a vote was taken and the bill was sent back to conference with instructions to our conferees to insist on the 5,000 figure.

VETO
The House overrode the President's veto of an immigration bill and so did the Senate. I vote to override. The bill is a big improvement over existing law, it codifies and revises the hodge-podge of our immigration and naturalization laws. The AFL and the American Legion supported the bill; the CIO led the fight against it. It holds the line against influx of immigrants, and tightens our security against Communists and subversives.

STEEL
A rider to the Controls bill requested the President to invoke the Taft-Hartley law against Phil Murray and the CIO steelworkers. By a vote of 228 to 164, the House joined earlier action by the Senate in calling for the use of the law to stop the disastrous strike. I voted for the rider.

Already enough steel has been lost by Murray's strike to build 45 million automobiles or 26,000 tanks. And the only item really in dispute is the union's demand for a union shop for all steel workers, whether the individual workers like it or not. In other words, Murray is now striking to force the men to join his union in order to work and make a living. I am opposed to forcing any man, without his consent to join a union in order to work and make a living for his family.

O P S NEWS

OPS has permitted retailers of certain consumer goods, including furniture items, to adjust their ceiling prices to take into account increases of 6 to 25 percent in transportation rates paid by them on shipments. Some less-than-carload rates have gone up 35 to 135 percent. This action was taken under the OPS industry earnings standard which provides that ceilings are fair and equitable if any industry's earnings do not fall below 85 percent of the level of the best three years in the 1946-1949 period. OPS has no control under the law of transportation rates, although the agency has formally opposed several increases.

OPS has removed price controls from the sale of discontinued makes of passenger automobiles, the maker of which was not in the business on June 24, 1950. At the same time exemption from price controls on so-called ancient cars was extended to those 20 years old from the previous 25 years age minimum.

OPS has relieved small eating and drinking establishments doing no more than $24,000 gross sales a year from the necessity of filing base period sales and costs under vidual workers like it or not. In other words, Murray is now striking to force the men to join his union in order to work and make a living. I am opposed to forcing any man, without his consent to join a union in order to work and make a living for his family.

OPS Director Ellis Arnall states: "All available evidence indicates that if controls were eliminated prices would go higher for food items, milk, bread, meat, cigarettes and for a large number of other basic needs. It is no exaggeration to say that this country cannot stand further increases in prices on top of the already steep price increases we have had since Korea."

the restaurant ceiling price regulations. Included in this exemption from filing are small drug stores and other eating and drinking places which do not segregate food and beverages sales from others. If the food and beverage amounts to no more than $12,000 a year, or $1,000 a month if in business for less than a year. At the same time OPS provided for pricing new food items by comparison with existing menu items except in cases where raw food costs of the new item is at least 3 percent more than that of the comparative item.

Because the prices of such basic materials as raw steel, crude oil, chemicals, lumber and all the other things that go into finished goods directly affects the goods you buy, OPS has devoted a major portion of its time and attention to the issuance of regulations at the producer level.

OPS reports that 160 items of the goods and services bought regularly and necessarily for our daily living are selling near their peak prices due to the force of inflation and demand. This means, says OPS, that 85 percent of the items on the cost-of-living index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics are within 6 percent of their peak prices.

OPS warns that careless spending feeds inflation. Inflation grows and spreads whenever people pay more than the purchase is worth. This is why OPS continues to urge public cooperation by careful buying to starve out the forces of inflation.

OPS Director Ellis Arnall states: "All available evidence indicates that if controls were eliminated prices would go higher for food items, milk, bread, meat, cigarettes and for a large number of other basic needs. ## Oil Consumption To Double By '75

By 1975 the petroleum consumption of the United States will be more than double the 1950 consumption, according to an estimate of the President's Materials Policy Commission just released.

The 1950 consumption amounted to 2,375,000,000 barrels and the 1975 consumption estimate was placed at 5,000,000,000 barrels. The Commission's report dismissed the many predictions in the past that the nation's oil supply was doomed to exhaustion in a fixed number of years but pointed out that "no matter how large our petroleum resources ultimately prove to be one fact is now clear: eventually the resources will dwindle and become progressively inadequate."

The commission pointed to a warning signal, declaring that with the last five years domestic demand for crude oil has begun to outstrip domestic production.

To meet the demands of 1975 the Commission recommended that it would be necessary to encourage the importation of oil from any source available, at the lowest possible tariff or no tariff at all, to push private development of the oil resources of the Continental Shelf under conditions of extreme conservation, and to encourage the perfection of techniques for the economic production of synthetic liquid fuels.

COUNTY BEARS $115,824 SHARE OF DEFICIT

Hancock Countians are $115,824 in debt as a result of the deficit spending of the federal government for the fiscal year ending June 30.

This estimate was made last week by the national affairs committee of the Mississippi Economic Council, headed by H. K. Griffin of Meridian. The chairman said the total deficit for the nation was $4,016,640,378.10, according to a treasury report.

A reliable index shows that Mississippi pays only .54% of total federal taxes, meaning that the state's share of the deficit is $21,939,808. The index shows that Hancock County pays .53% of the federal tax bill in Mississippi, which means that the county must shoulder $115,824 of the deficit.

The MEC official pointed out that total federal spending was over $66 billion dollars, while tax income was slightly more than $62 billion. Tax income was nearly $20 billion above World War II peak, and up 20 percent over the preceding year.

"Reason for breaking this tax figure down to county levels is to show Mississippians just where we stand in federal spending," Griffin said. "A four billion dollar deficit for the nation may sound vague and far away, but the local breakdown reveals what part we must bear. If our money is to remain of any value, this debt must be paid."

"The debt we owe due to federal spending is about $6 1/2 million more than Mississippi will spend for old age assistance during the next two years, and appropriation for public welfare being $16 million."

Griffin concluded: "We trust these figures on your part of the federal debt will cause you to realize there is no such thing as free government money."

It's an Everyday Sight in Rural Mississippi

"Wherever I drive through the country in Mississippi, nowadays," says a traveling salesman, "I find telephone crews at work. . . . So I'm not surprised that more and more of my rural friends and customers tell me I can reach them by telephone!"

Yes, indeed, Southern Bell construction crews are at work in rural Mississippi—and they have been, for a long time. . . . In the last six years, we have completed rural projects costing over 10 million dollars, giving rural Mississippians four times as many telephones as they had in 1945.

Today, we are at work on approximately 100 rural telephone projects in 50 Mississippi counties—building at the rate of 2 1/2 million dollars a year so more farm people who want telephones will have them as soon as possible.

To Start Statewide Novena July 12

A group of prominent Catholic laymen, headed by Joe T. Dehmer of Jackson as chairman, is spearheading preparations and underwriting expenses for the first outdoor public solemn novena to be held at a Carmelite Monastery in the state of Mississippi.

The novena, to be held in honor of Mary under her title, Our Lady of Mount Carmel, and celebrating her ancient feast day, July 16, will begin July 12 and close July 20.

The services to be held each of the nine evenings, starting at 7:30 o'clock and lasting approximately 40 minutes, will take place on the lawn of the Carmelite Monastery at 2155 Terry Road, Jackson, and will be open to all friends, Catholic and non-Catholic, who wish to participate in this traditional event of solemnity and prayers for the needs of a troubled world.

A novena means nine consecutive days of reciting prayers for a special intention. The first novena was instituted by Jesus Himself when he commanded His disciples to "remain in Jerusalem and wait there for the promise of His Father." This was from Ascension Thursday, to Pentecost Sunday.

The nightly sermons will be preached by the Rev. James A. Greeley, S. J., assistant pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in New Orleans, and former editor of America, weekly religious magazine, and former dean of the college of arts and sciences of Loyola University. Father Greeley is the recipient of two honor awards presented by the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa., for his contributions to the American way of life.

Master of ceremonies for the novena will be the Very Reverend James J. Hannon, chaplain of the monastery. Music will be furnished alternately by the choirs of St. Peter's, St. Mary's and other churches in neighboring parishes. The benediction will be pronounced each evening by a different priest.

With C. B. Boone of Jackson serving as co-chairman, Mr. Dehmer, founder and owner of 555 Tire and Service company in Jackson, has appointed the following extern committees for the novena: The Rev. James J. Hannon, chairman of the clergy; Louis Navarro, chairman, James T. Canizaro, vice-chairman, Tom J. Casey, member, committee of construction and layout; Joseph Ashker, chairman; P. T. Buckley, vice-chairman, parking; J. C. Battelle, chairman, Ernest S. Thomas, vice-chairman, ushers; George Thurber Jr., chairman, Sidney DuPuy vice-chairman, arrangements; Charles Koennen, chairman, S. A. Gatta, vice-chairman, lighting; Clovis Lewis, chairman, Randolph Kuriger, vice-chairman, public address system; S. D. Messina, photography; Miss Matty Hobart, chairman, Miss Joan Boone, vice-chairman, choir; Col. H. J. Dolton, chairman, R. J. Cortright, vice-chairman, transportation; Joe L. Virden of Greenville, chairman, Paul Sleigher, chairman, statewide attendance; Miss Florence McGee, floral decorations.

An outdoor altar will be erected on the grounds of the monastery, flooded by spotlights and adorned with floral arrangements against a natural background of trees and shrubs. The altar will be erected and all extern arrangements made by Mr. Dehmer and his various committees, who have assumed this responsibility because the Order of Carmel, most austere in the Catholic Church, is devoted entirely to prayer and forbids contact with the outside world.

The local monastery was formally enclosed by Bishop Gerow in February, 1952. Mother Mary Daniel, who came to Jackson from the Monastery in St. Louis, Mo.,

A number of prominent Catholic figures will be in Jackson for the novena, including Oliver L. Parks, founder of Parks Air College in East St. Louis, Ill., and a convert to Catholicism.

SMALL BUSINESS PLATFORM FORMED

The National Board of Directors of the American Association of Small Business, Inc. made the following recommendations: derived from the individual membership at large for adoption by both of the National Political Parties in convention assembled, according to Allen H. Johnson, national president of the association.

THE SMALL BUSINESS PLATFORM
"The American Way of Life," developed throughout the history of the United States of America by virtue of our system of production and distribution, our competitive enterprise system resulting from the initiative and energy of the individuals engaged therein must forever remain free.

"It is specifically called to the attention of the National Democratic and Republican delegates that the great majority of all businesses and professional firms in the United States is in the small business classification. According to statistics accepted by the public press, the Congress of the United States and others, the great majority of voters engaged in Small Businesses and Professions exceeds forty million people.

In order to more fully guarantee the pursuit of the business or profession of their choice to all people engaged in Small Businesses and the professions, the following recommendations are submitted to both conventions of the National Political Parties.

1—Double taxation on corporate dividends must be removed. It is in restraint of trade and hinders the flow of risk capital into the free enterprise field, thus hampering small businesses.

2—Encourage the adoption by the legislators of the few remaining States required to bring about the calling of a Constitutional Convention to amend the Constitution of the United States of America by placing a limit of 25% on inheritance and income taxes.

3—National legislation should be enacted so that all governments, city, county, state and national, shall not enter into any business in competition with free private tax-paying enterprises, seizure and/or control of property and/or private businesses.

4—The unfair distribution of the tax burden must be remedied. All governments, city, county, state and national, should be legislated out of business, as the practice of government in business is a cancer in the tax-collecting system of our nation. By being in tax-exempt business in competition with free private tax-paying enterprise the governments not only do not pay taxes but the small businessmen, professional people and the ultimate consumers must pay taxes to support their tax free competition.

5—An exemption of not less than $25,000.00 per annum for income tax purposes should be granted to all businesses and professional firms to offset the great expense business people are put to in acting as a collector of taxes and keeper of records for the various branches of governments.

6—Constitutional rights of the people of the United States of America are being placed in jeopardy by the existing treaties and executive agreements. National legislation should be adopted nullifying all treaties and executive agreements particularly the United Nations Treaty wherein the rights of the citizens of this nation are infringed upon in every way. Furthermore, as a safeguard against any encroachment upon our constitutional rights in the future, the enactment of National Legislation, which will protect the people from treaty or executive agreements must be completed quickly.

7—The monopolistic practices of big government, big labor and big cooperatives should be discontinued and that they be made to feel the full force of our anti-trust and monopoly laws.

8—That small business shall be adequately represented before Congressional Committees, Legislatures, Board and/or Public Bodies and all administrative agencies dealing with economics and social responsibilities affecting small business. That freedom of small business from all restrictive government regulations be maintained. That small businesses shall not be discriminated against in the furnishing of government needs for war and other purposes.

Vital Statistics Have Significance

Vital statistics sound simple. They appear to be only so many numbers—usually large numbers.

Actually, however, those vital statistics are our health bookkeeping, and the recording of births, deaths, sicknesses and their causes is not so simple as it sounds. We must have clear and detailed health records of a hundred different kinds, and the records must always be up to date.

These figures that look so simple are actually the result of much hard work. The results are well worth the effort, however, for without such records no picture of community can intelligently plan its fight on diseases. In a consideration of death records, the number of deaths week by week does not mean much. But when we look at the deaths by age groups, we begin to realize what part of the population is being hardest hit by certain diseases and other causes of death.

The value of this health bookkeeping can be readily seen in such problems as infant deaths. In some of our larger population areas, such as the City of Jackson or Meridian, two or three deaths of newborn infants each week might not cause alarm, but when that figure is suddenly doubled and tripled, our job of health bookkeeping has turned up a tremendous important fact and our vital statistics prove that action is needed immediately. Such meaningful information vitalizes what otherwise might be a dull job of record keeping.

An analysis of our statistics will pinpoint disease and death locations. Whenever the little black pins begin to bunch up in one community on our disease map, we have the trouble pinned down and located and can make our attack on the cause of the trouble.

The records of disease causes will often tell more than the record in the past when many babies had fever and diarrhea about the same time, members of the family felt that the cause was only an upset stomach. To the statistical detectives and the epidemiologists, however, the sudden rise in diar-

Highway Patrol Urges Renewal of Drivers Licenses

L. E. Birdsong, Director of the Drivers License Division of the Mississippi Highway Patrol, urged all drivers to check their driver licenses for expiration date.

Stand Birdsong, "If your license has expired or will expire on June 30, 1952, do not delay but renew same at once. This can be done at your City Clerk's office, or by sending $2.00 for Operator License or $5.00 for commercial, to Commissioner of Public Safety, Driver License Division, P. O. Box 88, Jackson, Mississippi. Send P. O. Money Order; do not send personal check."

The law requires each driver to hold a valid driver license and to have it with them at all times. It is much cheaper to renew your license and keep them up to date than to pay a fine for expired or no driver license.

During the month of May, 758 persons paid a fine for not having a current driver license. These were just the ones who were caught by the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

The Drivers License Director L. E. Birdsong, the Chief of Patrol, L. C. Hicks, and Colonel T. B. Birdsong, Commissioner of Public Safety issued a joint statement to this effect, "We are not interested in giving anyone a ticket for no driver license or an expired Driver License, but this is one violation Patrolmen cannot overlook; so we again urge each driver to check their license and keep it current."

Forestry News

By Dan Baggett, Forester International Paper Co.

Many questions have been asked concerning the sudden outbreak of the Southern Pine Beetle in the Southwest part of Mississippi. Many timber owners are concerned about the possibility of an epidemic on the Gulf Coast, and they should be concerned, because the Southern Pine Beetle is one of the deadliest of beetles that attacks southern pines.

At present, no occurrences of the beetle have been reported in Hancock county. There are several factors which are detrimental to the beetle outbreaks which we have on the coast. One is the humid weather conditions. It is understood that the beetles thrive best on areas of less rainfall and dry humid conditions. The contributing factor here is that pine trees grown under more humid conditions are likely to be more vigorous trees and, therefore, less susceptible to attack. Another factor is the species of pine involved. Although the beetle will attack all species of southern pine when an epidemic occurs, weaker trees on poorer sites of Loblolly and Shortleaf seem to be more susceptible. Another factor, and maybe the key to the sudden outbreaks in Southwest Mississippi, is the weakened condition left from the heavy ice damage in that section during the winter of 1951.

This is somewhat an optimistic outlook but there are many natural factors which work in our favor to exempt our County from the beetle outbreaks.

There is some infestation in Hancock and Pearl River counties of the Pine Colaspis Beetle, but the outbreaks are not associated with the Southern Pine Beetle. The Pine Colaspis Beetle is a small brown beetle about one-eighth

Home Agents Notes

By MADGE ALLRED

Don't overlook the use of green foliage for flower arrangements during these hot summer days. An arrangement of pine and magnolia leaves with a spray or two of English Ivy in a white container is very effective.

You might add interest by using a few white flowers - as two spikes of white glads or two or three dahlias. The use of an assortment of greens in an arrangement will tend to give a feeling of coolness to the room.

Don't let yourself be one of those homemakers who say, "My family just won't eat vegetables." Watch yourself and don't use the poor psychology of letting the children hear you express a dislike for certain foods. Use a little study and ingenuity of different recipes and you'll find many prejudices can be wiped out.

Too often the person doing the cooking, especially in the hot summer time, waits until the last minute, rushes to the kitchen and begins slamming the pots around at a furious rate. With a limited time to cook and serve the meal, too often it ends up with meat and potatoes and little else. Even during the most trying weather, take time to plan your meals and allow ample time, to prepare them.
